

JOIN TSAYA LE TSATSI LA LEAVE

The National Education, Health Allied Workers' Union (NEHAWU) calls on all our members and workers in general to join our Tsaya Le Tsatsi La Leave programme of action on the Monday, 24th August 2020.

On the 24th August 2020, the union will roll-out its "Tsaya le tsatsi la Leave" programme. We call and encourage all our members and workers to flock the offices of the employer and all apply for a day's leave for the following day on the 25th August 2020. This forms part of our aim to cause disruptions across workplaces until employers address our demands to protect workers from the virus, to Implement Resolution 1 of 2018, to put in place Occupational Health and Safety committee measures and create a healthy and safe workplace.

Our members and workers have been subjected to horrible working conditions for far too long. We have been very patient with the government and employers and we are no longer willing to stand-by while workers are on the receiving end of the pandemic. NO worker should be exposed to the virus because of complete negligence on the side of government and employers.

We are left with no option other than to mobilise our members, demonstrate our mass power and take the battle to the streets. This is the only power that we have as workers in fighting for our demands.

We call on all our members and workers to join "Tsaya le tsatsi la Leave" on the 24th August 2020. We encourage our members to exercise social distancing, wear a mask, wash hands or sanitise their hands and comply with the regulations.
